Plea to keep aides for E.H. students

I AM THE parent of a learning disabled child who has received excellent training in an E.H. class in the Campbell Union School District. I was disturbed when I read in the Campbell Press of Aug. 17 that these classes will not have aides next year. These classes have really helped children with learning problems, but I don't see how it will be possible for these children to continue to receive individualized instruction if no aides are provided. The teachers I have known are hard-working and dedicated but certainly do need the assistance of an aide.

Many children in such classes will find themselves again relegated to the realm of those who receive so little academic success that they will seek rewards in other less productive activities. Many of these children will ultimately find their way to correctional institutions or welfare rolls.

If this can be prevented through appropriate instruction as I have seen implemented in our Campbell E.H. classes, surely our Board of Education must find another way to economize. There have been four E.H. classes in our district. This means that 48 children will benefit greatly if the aides remain as part of the program, or 48 children may find their whole educational career in jeopardy if they are denied this vital assistance.

Society stands to gain by providing such education and I beiieve that the aides are necessary to insure an appropriate education for these unfortunate students for whom learning can be an almost insurmountable task.

2.1 per cent cut

CHUSD okays '78-79 budget

CAMPBELL Union High School District trustees Tuesday approved a $29.6 million budget for the 1978-79 school year. — a 2.1 percent reduction from last year's expenditures of $29.6 million.

According to Jim Gillespie of the district, the main casualties of budget slashing were adult education, summer session and community services.

Gillespie said the funding for adult ed programs was sliced by approximately 50 per cent, but that state-mandated programs such as English As A Second Language would be maintained.

Summer school will be eliminated except for the state-mandated program designed to help graduating seniors satisfy requirements, Gillespie said.

Community service programs will now be fee-sustained instead of district-financed, according to Gillespie.

A number of cuts from the athletic program, involving varsity golf and a number of frosh-soph programs, will also be consummated, although Gillespie says the final decisions are in the hands of the Board of Managers, comprised of the principals of the nine West Valley Athletic League schools.

"WE'RE CONFRONTED with a problem of not enough personnel in the coaching area," Gillespie said.

"What people don't understand is that athletics are funded largely through the student bodies," Gillespie said. "We only provide the coaching and transportation. We keep getting hit over the head with that issue but there's very little we can do. Our main concern is with the ability of student bodies to finance activities."

At the meeting Tuesday night, the board listened to one citizen who wanted the board to intervene in the decision made by the Board of Managers to cut some athletic programs.

One alternative suggested was the elimination of transportation to athletic events. The board referred the citizen to the Board of Managers.

In another move, the trustees adopted a resolution approving plans and specifications for fire alarm systems to be installed in the eight district schools.

Gillespie said work will soon begin on the installation of the systems, which cost in the neighborhood of $270,000.

"It should be understood that the insurance carrier recommended that we install the systems," Gillespie said. "Otherwise we'd be looking at higher premiums and deductibles."

Pat Madden, owner of the Canterbury Auction Galleries, 557 Salmar ave., eyes the three feathered friends that delayed the use of her newly purchased van almost a month. On July 10 Madden bought the post office vehicle to use as a surplus van. That day, she noticed a nest and four eggs comfortably perched inside. For five weeks Madden left the van parked in the lot of the post office until three of the four eggs hatched (July 24) and finally took to the skies, (August 13).

Save Our Schools action fails

School District wins suit

AN EFFORT by the Save Our Schools committee to legally halt the closing of five Campbell Union School District schools was denied last Tuesday in Santa Clara County Superior Court.

Superior Court Judge Marilyn Pestarino Zecher found in favor in the district on all nine causes of action stated in the lawsuit filed in April by attorney James Rohner on behalf of the Save Our Schools group.

In her decision the judge stated that "the declarations of Dr. (Walter) Hauss (district superintendent) and Dr. (Ron) Rescigno (assistant superintendent) allege that the consolidation proposed will save substanital monies and will improve the education process. Plaintiffs introduce no affidavits to refute Dr. Hauss and Rescigno nor to establish what the actual and concrete benefits are (of keeping the schools open)."

The contention of the SOS group that the school board violated the Brown act by discussing the closings in executive session was one of the nine moves dismissed by Zecher.

According to the judge's opinion, "the affidavit of (board president Donna) Baird declares that the Board of Trustees met in executive session 'only for purposes allowed under the law, for employer-employee relations, litigation, discussion with attorneys and appropriate personnel actions."

"These statements fall under the exclusions of the Brown Act," she added. "There are no affidavits filed by the Plaintiffs to contradict this and the Court finds as a matter of law no triable issues of fact."

ZECHER'S OPINION also declared that:

- There was no decision made to sell, least or rent the vacant school structures, as claimed by SOS.
- The district did not violate the California Environmental Quality Act by undertaking a "project" by closing the schools, as alleged by the plaintiffs.
- The SOS proved no discriminatory intent or bad faith on the part of the district.
- The district established "that the proposed plan will result in an improved mixture of races and economic backgrounds" and that the plan has "no discriminatory design and/or no discriminatory effects."
- The plaintiffs "set forth no facts in their affidavits to establish that the Defendants' plan was fradulent, unreasonable, arbitrary, capricious or that there was an abuse of discretion."

"The defendants have set forth in their affidavits facts which meet the legal requirements for property exercise of discretion," Zecher added.

SOS HAD SOUGHT a permanent injunction against the closing of the five schools within the next two years, a writ of mandate and damages of $5,000 plus court and attorney's costs.

Hauss said at the time the suit was filed that the district would realize approximately $400,000 from "a reorganization of administrative services and more efficient utilization of school facilities."

Rescigno, reached after the judge's verdict had been handed down, expressed pleasure that the judge "recognized that we were operating within the spirit and letter of the law in closing the schools."

He said the district had been confident of victory all along but that "when you're breaking new legal ground sometimes you don't know what to expect."

Rohner could not be reached for comment.

All-stars feted

PLANS TO congratulate the Campbell Moreland Pony League All-Stars, crowned World Champions last Sunday after beating Joliet, Ill. 2-0, were put into motion upon the team's return to the Bay Area Monday.

An informal reception honoring the team and featuring local dignataries was held Tuesday evening at John D. Morgan Park, the league's home field.

According to Ralph Pfirrman, a member of the league's Board of Trustees and co-ordinator of the event, the reception was designed as "just something to allow the city fathers to tell the team, 'Great job.'"

Full coverage of the reception will be featured in next week's Press.

In addition, a ceremonial banquet has been tentatively scheduled for Friday, Sept. 15 at the Pinehurst Inn, 1520 The Alameda, San Jose.

For more information call coordinator Jerry Paquin at 248-4731 (home) or 295-8078 (office).

Bus fleet okayed

The decision to maintain a fleet of 11 school buses and two spares was made last Thursday night at the Campbell Union School District public budget session.

It was also decided to add one four-hour bus driving position.

According to Ken Meinecke, assistant superintendent for instruction, the recommendation to drop EH (Educationally Handicapped) classroom aides was also accepted.

The elimination of EH aides went with the provision that the director of special education would monitor certain needs as they developed, Meinecke said.

Meinecke noted that there was a total budget increase of $83,000 over the publication budget. He continued that $130,000 would be held for future needs.

No new developments in park complex fuss

The fate of the proposed 200-unit senior citizens complex on the Carlino property adjacent to John D. Morgan Park remains up in the air.

While County Housing Authority Director John Burns maintained his close-lipped stance on the subject, the Campbell Parks and Recreation Commission appointed a committee to study any possible action the commission might take to prevent construction of the facility.

Commission Chairman John Ashworth said he attended a meeting of the County Housing Authority. He said a contract has been awarded to an architect and a design was discussed but that the site wasn't brought up.

The housing authority is currently negotiating with the owners of the property. Federal appraisers set the value of the 4.7 acre parcel at $575,000.

Burns refused to comment on the state of the negotiations, noting that any opinion he stated on the subject would be "pure speculation."

The Parks and Recreation Commission went on record as opposing the project in June and the Youth and Civic Improvement commissions have since done the same.

Opponents to the complex claim that the influx of senior citizens would make Campbell the "senior citizens capital" of the area and point to the need for additional space for parking or recreational facilities at John D. Morgan Park.

In addition, opponents feel that the senior citizens would clash with park-goers, students at adjacent Campbell junior high school and baseball fans from the Campbell Moreland Pony League, which plays its games in the park.

According to Ashworth, when and if an agreement is reached between HUD (federal housing and urban development) and the property owners, the planning commission will have to rubber-stamp the matter and send it on to the City Council for final approval.

No development may begin without the okay of the City Council.

The federal government has already earmarked $10.3 million for the project.

Valley corridor discussed

The idea of a Multi-Model Transportation Corridor was presented at the regular Campbell City Council Meeting last Monday night in the council chamber.

Madge Overhouse, committe member for the West Valley Task Force, spoke on behalf of her group. She explained that the completion of state route 85 (which is 90 percent finished) would largely relieve the traffic congestion present now on so many nearby streets.

All area cities San Jose, Los Gatos, Saratoga, Monte Sereno and Cupertino as well as Campbell would benefit from this expressway-type road, featuring light rail transit, walkways, and bike paths.

The council voted to draft a letter to be sent to the state asking for funding in this area.

Also at the meeting, the council agreed to continue discussions with the county to gain access of the basement of the Campbell Library, 70 N. Central, to be used on a permanent basis as a community center for senior citizens.

Consumer's corner: The word from Firestone

Send all mail for this column to P.O. Box 311, Palo Alto, Ca. 94302, or call 494-1858 for consumer advice.

Consumers United has obtained and decided to print the full text of a letter from Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. to its dealers. The letter to the dealers, classified "confidential," outlines in some detail Firestone's obligations to its customers that have cars equipped with the infamous "500 steel-belted radials".

Firestone has not seen fit to publish this letter and we are doing so in the interest of public safety and information.

FIRESTONE DEALERS AND STORES:

Steel-belted radial passenger tires made by American tire manufacturers and particularly Firestone tires have experienced an unusual amount of criticism. The resultant adverse publicity, although often containing unfair and unsupported allegations, has caused many motorists to doubt the reliability of their Firestone Steel-Belted Radial 500, New Steel-Belted Radial 500 and even TPC Steel-Belted Radial tires.

We are taking every opportunity to put this matter in a fair perspective in the public's mind. However, this cannot undo the effect of prior bad publicity which is causing customers to complain about satisfactorily performing Firestone tires.

Attached is an editorial by Mr. Bill Whitney, Publisher of Tire Review magazine, and a companion article, both from the May issue of that magazine. Use these with your employees and customers to help offset recent damage to Firestone's good reputation.

While we are taking action here in Akron on a nationwide basis, in the long run our most effective weapon is to assure full customer satisfaction to every customer who comes into a Firestone store or dealership. The following sets forth typical complaint situations generated by the adverse publicity about the steel belted radial tires, and our approved handling procedure for the tires identified above in those situations:

(1) Tires are all operating satisfactorily; none are adjustable but customer desires to have them replaced anyway.

Carefully inspect all tires, including spare, for serviceability. Check air pressure in each tire. Show customer any tires that are underinflated and adjust them to correct cool inflation pressure. Make sure that customer knows by axle the correct cool inflation pressures for his tires, and that he is responsible for maintaining correct inflation pressures.

After this attention, most cutomers will be satisfied and desire to continue running their tires. If the customer still insists that all the tires be removed, work out a prorata tread-wear trade-in on an equal number of Steel-Belted Radial 721 tires.

(2) Customer has adjustable condition tire(s) and desires to replace other tires (of same line) on the car that appears serviceable.

Replace adjustable tire(s) with Steel-Belted Radial 721 on our regular warranty basis. If customer declines to pay the amount required by the warranty, replace on customer satisfaction basis at a reasonable and mutually agreed upon price.

Check inflation pressure in customer's other tires as described in (1) above. If customer still desires to replace the remaining tires, work out a prorata treadwear trade-in on an equal number of Steel-Belted Radial 721 tires.

In each of these situations, the recommended action, as described above, is the customer satisfaction approach. Successful marketing in our industry has always been characterized by repeat brand purchasing and, therefore, customer satisfaction needs special emphasis during this period of unfair publicity.

As part of this emphasis, tires handled on a customer satisfaction basis as outlined above are to be sent to our regional service center the same as tires handled under our warranty program. The service center will approve each claim at the replacement price stated on the claim. However, actual credit to dealer or store on tires without apparent adjustable condition will be passed on a policy concession credit memo. All such dealer claims plus all claims involving replacement price below that required by the applicable warranty will be confirmed from Akron direct to the consumer.

All of us must work together to see that customers are not lost for the future due to the unfortunate, but transitory, publicity that is being aimed at us today. These trying times offer an excellent opportunity to sell your customers on the superb quality of the Firestone Steel-Belted Radial 721.

Penny pinchers

By SHIRLEY TALLMAN

Dear Shirley,

This may sound much too early to start talking about Christmas, but last year our holiday was almost a disaster! Not only did we go way over our budget (which made for a very "black January"), but I spent literally one month doing little else besides shop for Christmas.

This year I'd like to avoid all this hassle and expense. There must be a better way. I was hoping that either you or your readers could give me some ideas and suggestions as to how Christmas '78 can be more merry for me.

Thank you,
Doreen Stout,
San Jose

Hundreds of thousands of people (including me) have found themselves in precisely this fix at one time or another. And, as long as inflation continues to soar, It's not likely that the situation is going to change.

Happily, there are some things we can do to take the strain off what should be, after all, one of the most beautiful times of the year. The first, and most important thing to save both time and money is (you guessed it), plan ahead! No matter how hard it is to think of Christmas in 90 degree weather it's the only way to beat the game.

Start with a general list that leaves room for flexibility. That way you can take advantage of all those great garage sales that spring up on almost every block during the summer. If Aunt Harriet or Uncle John like books, this is a good place to browse. Many times you can find selections that are almost like new. Sports equipment, gold fish, paintings, home decorations, dishes, small appliances, toys, games, bikes, and so many other things can be found by the discerning shopper at a fraction of their original cost.

Who on your list wouldn't enjoy a gift box of delicious homemade jams and jellies put up in decorative jars? If you don't think ahead with this gift, it's sure going to be too late in December!

Summer is also a good time for starting slips for plants which will be just the right size for gift giving in December. Doubly nice is the plant that comes with its own homemade macrame hanger. You can make these plants and hangers for much less than you'd pay for them in a store, and, only you can make them just right by adding your own personal touches.

Sept. 2 through Sept. 8

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Explosion immiment! Candle you've been burning at both ends is reason. Douse flames with cool waters of reason and compromise, Air, and then wait undercover. By week's end you are ready to behave yourself — sort of.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): New line should get you lots of nibbles, Taurus. Lazy trawling now attracts attention of whopper. However, when bite comes (and it will) reel in very slowly. On last day display your catch.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): This week it is better to receive than to give, Gem. Looking gift horse in mouth now prevents free ride later. Accept graciously that which is graciously offered. What you think is hollow may prove to be genuine after all. On last day open gates and put out welcome mat.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Expect associate to put up struggle when you start making inroads into competitive area. You have the stuff to make your own mark, Moonbaby, so don't be intimidated by bluster. If you feel that you're up against proverbial "stone wall," don't waste time climbing — leap!

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Check score card, Leo. Long line of zeros may mean you're playing game which is no longer appropriate. Update your thinking. Learn from the past, Leo, but for heaven's sake don't live there. Times change — so should you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Light touch does it, Virgo. Shelve passionate feelings for later. Continue to take notes but put them in a minor key. Loved one whistles a new tune as week ends harmoniously.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Lazing among the lily pads will waterlog your wings, Libra. Step out, shake off and soar up. Being above it all gives you wider view to pinpoint plentitude of frogs in pond. On last day, croak turns to croon and week jumps to an interesting fini.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Leopard makes effort to change spots this week, Scorp. Patience pays off. Give this cat some positive strokes and before last day you have pussycat purring at your feet.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Wheels within wheels turn. A good lube job may be needed to insure steady RPM. Dig deep in pockets if that's what it takes, Saj, because you have to grease if you want to slide. Message clears.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Forced move brings back memories of old bruise. Cure hurt with heart rather than head. Sentimental reunion can soothe, Cap, so give loved one a call. Before week is over, sniffles turn to giggles and week ends on note of expectation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Dreams are highlighted. A voice not heard during day speaks clearly at night. Interpret and heed. You discover that choices are available but choice brings anguish. Emotional week ends on key of G for grudge, growth and grateful.

PISCES (Mar. 19-Apr. 20): Others wonder why you "let it all hang out" Pisces, when you'd be so much wiser if you tucked most of it in. Old ideas still have merit. On the tip of your tongue your fate rests. You will understand.

Pony leaguers win it all

By CHUCK HILDEBRAND

A WORLD championship, the Baseball Hall of Fame and a no-hitter.

Those are all little more than dreams even for a lot of major league baseball players.

For Rich Alvarez, all those dreams became reality Sunday at the age of 14 — in the space of one hour and 15 minutes.

And for 14 other players and their parents and fans, that World Championship dream is no longer a dream, either.

The Campbell Moreland Pony League All-Star team sits atop the Pony baseball world after its romp through the World Series in National City, near San Diego, last week.

Their climatic victory came Sunday over Joliet, Ill., 2-0 — and it was the climatic game of Alvarez's glittering Pony League carreer as well.

Alvarez became the first hurler in the 27-year history of the World Series to toss a no-hit, no-run game in the tournament finals.

EVEN FOR Alvarez, who seems just too good for this level of competition, it was a spectacle to behold.

He struck out 13 batters, mixing his fastball with a variety of breaking stuff to keep the already befuddled Joliet hitters off-balance.

His control faltered occasionally, as he walked six and needed 117 pitches to cover the seven inning route. But only twice was the ball pulled to the left side of the infield against him.

After the game, during the awards ceremony, it was announced that a youth baseball display was being added to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y. and that Alvarez's uniform would be included, along with a picture of the entire Campbell Moreland team.

Alvarez' batterymate, catcher and team captain Mike Walsh, who called a heads-up game, gunned down his 12th would-be base thief in 18 tries during post-season play and helped to steady Alvarez during the times his control wavered.

LEFT FIELDER Bill Roberts doubled and scored the only run Alvarez needed during Campbell's two-run uprising in the fourth inning. A streak hitter, Roberts was on a tear throughout the series.

Al Vanegas, who battled his way into the starting lineup during the Series and went two for three at the plate in the finale, drove Roberts in with a single.

Manager Bud Stallings, who has managed in the league since 1971 and in youth baseball for 20 years, praised the team's togetherness and toughness under pressure.

"Two things about this team come to mind immediately," Stallings said. "They were a very composed team under pressure. At no time did they buckle when things got tough. And they were a very self-motivated group. We had virtually no behavior problems. Once I told them to do something I seldom had to say it again."

"ANOTHER THING about this team," continued Stallings, "was its determination to prove itself between the lines. There wasn't much verbal heckling and the team was compassionate toward the teams it beat."

"I believe the team jelled during the first tournament when we beat Diablo Valley (5-4 and 6-5 to win the Northern California Regionals). Sometime during that first game, everything just came together and we became a tight, cohesive team."

Stallings didn't want to single individuals out for special praise — but he did outline the contribution made by back-up catcher Glenn Davis.

"Glenn's spirit and attitude were super throughout the tournaments even though he didn't get into any games," Stallings said. "His disposition never changed and he was always ready to help in any way he could."

DURING THE championship game against Joliet, it became apparent that one run would be sufficient to bring the World Series title home to Campbell for the second time (the first victory came in 1964, also in National City).

In the fourth, Campbell broke through.

Roberts, who specializes in shots to the opposite field, ripped a shot off the right-center field fence for a double to lead off the inning. Paul Sargis walked and Vanegas chopped a single into left-center to cash in the first run, Sargis moving to third.

Scott Freear lifted a sacrifice fly to center to bring Sargis home and close out the day's scoring.

Joliet mounted one minor threat in the sixth as Alvarez issued a pair of walks. But Alvarez popped up the next hitter, fanned the number three hitter and induced the clean-up man to pop up to escape unscathed.

CAMPBELL KNOCKED off the same Joliet team 3-1 Friday to earn its berth in the championship game.

Sargis went the first five innings, giving up only one run and one hit, that coming in the fifth when he tired and surrendered Joliet's only tally.

Straight relieved in the sixth and allowed only one baserunner, who walked and was promptly cut down by Walsh on a steal attempt.

Campbell broke into the run column in the third. Ed Rodriguez beat out a bunt for the fourth of five straight hits he was to string together and stole second.

The Joliet shortstop bobbled Alvarez' roller to move Rodriguez to third and the CM speedster came in on a wild pitch.

JOLIET EQUALIZED in the fifth when Sargis, who threw 73 pitches in his five inning stint, suffered from control lapses.

Straight, playing shortstop at the time, made a circus catch of a foul pop-up behind third with his back to the infield and on the dead run to bail Sargis out of further difficulties.

His play seemed to light a fire under the locals, who picked up single runs in the sixth and seventh for the final 3-1 margin.

Roberts led-off the sixth with a blast to the left-centerfield. The left fielder threw wildly trying to nail Roberts at third and the ball rolled into the third base dugout, allowing Roberts to score.

In the seventh, Alvarez blooped a single to right-center, advanced on a sacrifice and scored on Roberts' single to left.

In its first tournament game, Campbell Moreland downed Puerto Rico 5-1 behind Alvarez' four-hitter. Alvarez tired badly in the seventh but found a second wind and held on to preserve the triumph.

THERE WAS no riotous celebration after left fielder Roberts gloved the fly ball that launched Campbell Moreland to the peak of the Pony baseball hill — just the quiet satisfaction that comes with a job well done.

It was that kind of composure during the games that had a lot to do with their success.

Many of the players, in fact, even expressed relief that the season was over and that they could return to normal lives.

West Valley Bobby Soxers capture National fifth

IT TAKES two losses to knock a team out of the Bobby Sox National tournament in Buena Park, California. And the West Valley Bobby Sox major division all-stars suffered those two losses to face elimination after a strong National start.

But West Valley didn't bow out of the National event without a fight. It took the first and second place teams to knock off the West Valley bunch and send them home in fifth place. And, with a little luck, even those two teams couldn't have done it!

West Valley suffered a 7-4 loss at the hands of Tustin of Orange County, committing seven errors in the loss, to fall into the loser's bracket.

The locals came back to handle Canyon Hills but then lost a heartbreaker 2-1 to Hunnington Beach of Orange County to fall from the tournament.

Hunnington Beach went on to beat Tustin twice to claim the National title.

Carrie Vaianisi fired a four-hitter, whiffing six and walking just one, but was the losing pitcher in the final game against the ultimate National champs. Two runs in the first inning cost her the decision.

WEST VALLEY got a run back in the first when Vaianisi singled home Patty Herring but, although they had chances, the local Soxers couldn't score again in the game and fell to the 2-1 defeat. West Valley left seven runners on base in the game.

Herring was two for two and Vaianisi was two for three in the loss for West Valley.

Julia Ranheim tossed a four-hitter, fanning six and walking only one, to lead West Valley to the 5-1 win over Canyon Hills in the loser's bracket.

The clubs were locked in a scoreless battle before Canyon Hills made it 1-0 in the last of the sixth.

But in the top of the seventh West Valley rallied for five runs. Sandra Lavin and Mary Sheehan bunted for singles and Lisa Ferrante walked to load the bases. Jill Vanderbosch doubled in two runs and Vaianisi bunted for a hit to load the sacks again. Karen McCauley followed with a three-run triple to ice the victory.

Seven errors killed West Valley's hopes against Tustin. WV had two three-error innings that cost Vaianisi the decision. Vaianisi struck out six and allowed just one earned run but was still stung with the loss.

McCauley and Denise Bondelie were each two for three in the loss for West Valley. The locals left nine runners on base against Tustin.

West Valley managed a strong fifth place showing in the 24 team tournament, the best ever for the WV league.

Two DiMaggio all-star teams in tournament

TWO SAN JOSE all-star teams will participate in an eight-team PAL-Joe DiMaggio all-star tournament Aug. 23-26 in Napa.

San Jose city champion Del Mar placed eight players on the National division squad which opens tourney play against San Francisco Wednesday, Aug. 23, at Napa College.

Manager John Dorr (DM) tabbed John Cabri, Kevin Gipson, Ron Hansen, Jeff Kefauver, Kirk Perry, Larry Terronez, Mike Westberg and Pat Whitaker from his team.

Oak Grove's Steve Gessell, Rob Lynch, Scott Mallinson and Sal Ribera and Yerba Buena's Alex Lopez, Ned McIver and Greg Villareal round out the 15-man squad.

National coaches are Jim Castillo (YB), Ted Kellner (OG) and Ted Westberg (DM).

San Jose-American, which features a 17-player roster with at least one player from each of the division's six teams, battles host Napa at 4 p.m. Wednesday at Yountville.

Neal Alanis, Andy Gonzales and Ed Merriott, Ayer; Jim Dona, Hill; Randy Cedano, Gerald Ishimaru and Les Rodrigues, Independence; Steve Faughnan and Carl Reichardt, Mt. Pleasant; and John Szczesny, Silver Creek, complete the team.

Mt. Pleasan'ts Mike Barnhart and Overfelt's Frank Diaz and Paul Guillen will be the coaches.

North Peninsula meets Stockton and Fairfield-Benicia takes on South Peninsula in other first round contests.

If San Jose National wins its opener, it will play Thursday at Yountville. If it loses, it plays at Napa College at 10 a.m.

A first round win would give SJ American a 4 p.m. Thursday date at Yountville. An opening loss puts the Americans into a 1 p.m. game at Yountville.

Volleyball sign-ups

THE CITY of Campbell Community Services department is organizing a pair of competitive co-ed volleyball leagues, beginning in September.

A "C" league will play Tuesday evenings while a "B" league will play on Wednesday nights. The "B" league will play at Campbell high school.

Registration begins Sept. 13, and runs through Sept. 21, on a first come, first serve basis. There is a $90 registration fee.

Michael (Mike) Kelly — a "mellow" entrepreneur — has introduced this same relaxed feeling to his GATSBY'S RESTAURANT. Dining on 3 levels w/a lounge loft piano bar furnished w/soft couches & divans much as in the happy post-war yrs. — attractive bartender "Gary" serves drinks at the sitdown bar & offers selections from their Oyster Bar. Harry Gibson plays music from 5 p.m. on. Try the Charbroiled 12 oz. Milk Fed Wisc. Veal Steak, only $7.95 — superior!!

If you're looking for a great luncheon buffet & perhaps wish to impress a spec. guest, take them to the LE PAVILION at the top of the LE BARON HOTEL where you'll see a fabulous array of entrees such as Poached Salmon, Roast Beef, tempting salads, fr. fruits & scrumptious desserts for only $4.25. Served Mon.-Fri. from 10 a.m.-2 p.m. — it's indeed an exciting combination of excellent food, attractive decor & a scintillating view of the S.J. Airport & Valley below. The dining room is built around a Garden Pavilion & there's protected garden dining on the terrace.

A reader called to tell me about the fine family dinner they enjoyed at HWEI FU SHING RESTAURANT . . . the hostess was most gracious & their waitress gave them attentive service & the children were treated like little VIP's. They enjoyed the Chinese cupcakes, Curry Beef & ordered a Whole Hot Braised Fish — they tell me they'll be returning for a return engagement soon.
